175th Anniversary Year Celebrations Continue Next Saturday and Sunday January 16 and 17

Former pastor, the Rev. Dr. R. Proctor Chambless, and his wife, Ginger, will be returning to Marianna to celebrate with us that weekend.

Events for the weekend will include:

Dessert and Visit with the Chambless family at the Manse 4380 River Forest Road (opposite the baseball fields at Chipola College) on Saturday from 3 -5 p.m.

Chat with Proctor Chambless from 9:45 to 10:30 a.m. on Sunday in the sanctuary.

Worship Service at 11 a.m. on Sunday at which Proctor Chambless will be the preacher.

The service will also include music written for our Anniversary Year by Larry Nelson.

A Montreat Luncheon will follow the service.

The Proctor and Ginger Chambless lived here with their children Jason and Kate from July 1982-August 1990.

Dr. Chambless says, "My children's most formative years were spent in Marianna and they still consider it home. So much of what my children have become is a credit to our church family in Marianna, and for that Ginger and I will always be grateful." Jason and his wife have two children and live in Savannah, Georgia, where he is a civil engineer with Thomas and Hutton. Kate and her husband live in Cincinnati, Ohio with their two children. Her husband is an Emergency Room Doctor, and she is a substitute teacher, and busy mom and homemaker.

Dr. Chambless served churches in Greenville, South Carolina, Tennessee and was Interim Presbytery Executive for North Alabama Presbytery after leaving Marianna. He now serves Henry Memorial Presbyterian Church in Dublin, Georgia.
